

National Endowment for Financial Education's IL HSFP Network Presents
NEFE High School Financial Planning Program: An In-Depth Financial Literacy Curriculum Train-the-Trainer Workshop

Wednesday, March 24, 2010

8:30 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Program Description: The train-the-trainer workshop is for teachers and agency staff who work with young adults (14-19). This practical, non-commercial workshop will provide training on the updated National Endowment for Financial Education's (NEFE) High School Financial Planning Program curriculum. The curriculum easily compliments existing curricula being used in high schools and agencies who teach topics like: financial planning, budgeting, investing, credit, banking, consumer fraud and identity theft, insurance, and careers. There will be in-depth subject matter training of the following subject matter themes: investing, risk management, and credit management along with tips on how to protect your identity. The training will also help instructors learn how to use the curriculum effectively, including the supplemental materials, on-line resources, quizzes, tests, and PowerPoints provided by NEFE as well as information from the IL HSFP Network Members. All participants will receive a sample student workbook, instructor's manual, and other helpful resources. CPDU Credits Available

Location: Illinois Credit Union League, 1807 West Diehl Road, Naperville, IL 60563 –
